CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

As a senior-level executive, the CFO will be responsible for overseeing the financial, accounting, legal and regulatory functions of the Fund. The CFO will also assist in structuring, marketing and managing a new fund. The candidate should have extensive experience working with private equity fund managers in the emerging markets. Knowledge of Ukrainian and/or Russian is desirable but not mandatory.

Western NIS Enterprise Fund is an early-stage venture capital fund that makes equity investments in private companies operating in Ukraine and Moldova. Since becoming fully operational in 1995, the Fund has committed over $60 million to nineteen, medium-sized companies operating in growth industries. The Fund was initially capitalized with $150 million by the US Government. Senior management is currently exploring opportunities to create a second fund capitalized by private institutional investors.
